However, operating expenses for 2023, including freight and commissions, decreased compared to 2022, resulted in a substantial increase in profit for 2023 compared to the previous year.

- (2) Execution of Budget: The Company and its subsidiaries did not disclose the financial forecasts in 2023; therefore, there is no information about the execution of budget.
- (3) Financial Revenue and Expenditure and Profitability Analysis

The Company and the subsidiaries' non-operating income and expenses in 2023 increased NT$15,365 thousand compared to the last year. The major reasons are the higher rent income and exchange rate respectively brought by the reuse of idle assets and the depreciation of New Taiwan dollars in 2022.

2. 2024 Overview of Business Plan

- (1) Operation Policies:

  - B. Manage raw material volatility and cost management to improve productive efficiency
  - C. Research and develop high-efficiency machines based on the industry

D. Focus on operation risks to ensure sustainable development

(2) Business Objectives

In 2024, the global economy continues to face numerous challenges, including issues such as weakening consumer momentum in the United States, fluctuating raw material prices, the economic outlook in China, and the monetary policy direction of various central banks. These factors will impact the performance of the Taiwanese machine tool industry internationally. The company needs to consolidate existing markets while continuing to explore emerging markets and develop new orders from potential customers to maintain our competitive advantage in the industry. The total sales volume of machines is expected to reach 624.

- (3) Important Production and Marketing Policies
  - A. Conduct continuous comprehensive quality inspections to reduce production defects and inventory management.
  - B. Improve the stability of the source of raw materials and the manufacture of products
  - C. Cooperation between China and Taiwan manufacturing bases to create benefits to the market

3. Future Development Strategy

To increase sales profits and improve the quality of products, the Company will open up domestic and foreign sales channels and focus on clients' credit risk evaluation. In addition, the company will develop new machines and improve the current ones to cater to the industry's needs for processing. For the Company's competitiveness, we will develop machines' automated production intelligence and cultivate employees' abilities.

4. The Effect of External Competition, The Legal Environment, and The Overall Business Environment

In 2023, factors such as high inflation and weaker-than-expected post-pandemic economic performance in China led to weakened demand from end customers, resulting in a slowdown in manufacturing activities worldwide. The market's shift in orders did not meet expectations, leading to a decline in the industry compared to previous years. The company is taking measures to mitigate the impact of external factors. The company endeavored to stabilize the markets, expand the potential market, win more orders, and decline inventory costs by enhancing efficiency.

Under the monetary policies of various central banks, exchange rate fluctuations have been significant, and internal attention is being paid to changes in exchange rates. The company focused on the fluctuation in the exchange rate, diversified risks by adjusting foreign currency assets, and fixed export quotations to minimize the effects caused by the exchange rate on the Company's operation.

The Company should maintain the stability of sales channels, improve the quality of products, and save costs to ensure sustainable operation and development. In addition, the company built a compensation and reward system to thank employees' contributions, encourage employees to improve the company's sales performance and profits, and therefore maximize the shareholders' benefits.

To improve sales performance and gain profits, the company will continue to increase sales channels, proficiently implement production and sales policy on markets, industries, and regions, improve product quality, and save costs.

To KAO FONG MACHINERY CO., LTD:

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of KAO FONG MACHINERY CO., LTD and subsidiaries (the "Group"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. Key audit matters for the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 are stated as follows:

1. Revenue recognition

Please refer to Note 4.20 to the consolidated financial statements for the accounting policies of revenue recognition. Please refer to Note 5.1 3) to the consolidated financial statements for the significant accounting judgments, estimates, and assumptions of revenue recognition. Please refer to Note 6.25 to the consolidated financial statements for the details of revenue recognition.

Explanations to the key audit matter:

The operating revenue of the Group is principally arising from sales of products. The Group shall recognize revenue arising from the sales of products in normal operating activities when the customer obtains control of the products. It's the time when goods are transferred to a customer, and there's no remaining obligation that could affect the acceptance of the goods. Transfer is completed when the customer has accepted the products according to conditions of transactions, and the risk of obsolescence and lost is transferred to the customer.

The Group shall determine the time point of transferring control based on conditions of transactions and recognize revenue. The terms of transactions depend on contract terms. Therefore, we pay special attention to the correctness of the time point of recognizing sales revenue.

Audit procedures in response:

The audit procedures include obtaining understanding of and testing revenue recognition of products by management, and the effectiveness of relevant internal control, including confirming the conditions of sales contracts and whether the revenue is recognized appropriately. Furthermore, we performed the revenue cut-off testing to the transactions during a certain period prior and after the balance sheet date, and verified the delivery terms indicated on the sales contracts of products, and revenue recognition has been recorded in the appropriate period.

2. (Expected) impairment loss of receivables

Please refer to Note 4.7 to the consolidated financial statements for the accounting policies of evaluation of impairment loss of receivables. Please refer to Note 5.2 1) to the consolidated financial statements for the significant accounting judgments, estimates, and assumptions of evaluation of impairment loss of receivables. Please refer to Note 6.5 to the consolidated financial statements for the details of evaluation of impairment loss of receivables.

Explanations to the key audit matter:

The loss allowance of the Group is based on management's estimates to the expected credit losses by considering the credibility of sales customers, current market environment and specific conditions of customers, etc. Therefore, the evaluation involves management's subjective judgment to certain extent. The balance of receivables is significant to the financial statements, and the recovery risk increased due to current economic environment risk. Therefore, the test to the evaluation of (expected) impairment loss of receivables is one of the most important items of the audit.

Audit procedures in response:

The principal audit procedures include evaluating the appropriateness of the policies of setting aside loss allowance, testing the correctness of the aging of the receivables, analyzing the changes in aging and significant overdue accounts, evaluating the rationality of impairment loss of individual accounts receivables, confirming whether there is any impairment at the end of the period, and evaluating the recoverability by reviewing the recovery condition in subsequent period.

Other Matter

We have also audited the parent company only financial statements of KAO FONG MACHINERY CO., LTD as of and for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 on which we have issued an unqualified opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including members of the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than from on resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, we are required to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance, with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of KAO FONG MACHINERY CO., LTD (the "Company"), which comprise the parent company only balance sheets as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the parent company only statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying parent company only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Company as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent company only Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of The Company in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of The Company's parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. Key audit matters for The Company's parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 are stated as follows:

1. Revenue recognition

Please refer to Note 4.19 to the parent company only financial statements for the accounting policies of revenue recognition. Please refer to Note 5.1 3) to the parent company only financial statements for the significant accounting judgments, estimates, and assumptions of revenue recognition. Please refer to Note 6.24 to the parent company only financial statements for the details of revenue recognition. Explanations to the key audit matter:

The operating revenue of The Company is principally arising from sales of products. The Company shall recognize revenue arising from the sales of products in normal operating activities when the customer obtains control of the products. It's the time when goods are transferred to a customer, and there's no remaining obligation that could affect the acceptance of the goods. Transfer is completed when the customer has accepted the products according to conditions of transactions, and the risk of obsolescence and lost is transferred to the customer,

The Company shall determine the time point of transferring control based on conditions of transactions and recognize revenue. The terms of transactions depend on contract terms. Therefore, we pay special attention to the correctness of the time point of recognizing sales revenue.

Audit procedures in response:

The audit procedures include obtaining understanding of and testing revenue recognition of products by management, and the effectiveness of relevant internal control, including confirming the conditions of sales contracts and whether the revenue is recognized appropriately. Furthermore, we performed the revenue cut-off testing to the transactions during a certain period prior and after the balance sheet date, and verified the delivery terms indicated on the sales contracts of products, and revenue recognition has been recorded in the appropriate period.

2. (Expected) impairment loss of receivable

Please refer to Note 4.6 to the parent company only financial statements for the accounting policies of evaluation of impairment loss of receivables. Please refer to Note 5.2 1) to the parent company only financial statements for the significant accounting judgments, estimates, and assumptions of evaluation of impairment loss of receivables. Please refer to Note 6.5 to the parent company only financial statements for the details of evaluation of impairment loss of receivables.

Explanations to the key audit matter:

The loss allowance of The Company is based on management's estimates to the expected credit losses by considering the credibility of sales customers, current market environment and specific conditions of customers, etc. Therefore, the evaluation involves management's subjective judgment to certain extent. The balance of receivables is significant to the financial statements, and the recovery risk increased due to current economic environment risk. Therefore, the test to the evaluation of (expected) impairment loss of receivables is one of the most important items of the audit.

Audit procedures in response:

The principal audit procedures include evaluating the appropriateness of the policies of setting aside loss allowance, testing the correctness of the aging of the receivables, analyzing the changes in aging and significant overdue accounts, evaluating the rationality of impairment loss of individual accounts receivables, confirming whether there is any impairment at the end of the period, and evaluating the recoverability by reviewing the recovery condition in subsequent period.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent company only Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing The Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate The Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including members of the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing The Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent company only Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than from on resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- 2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of The Company's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- 4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on The Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, we are required to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause The Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within The Company to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance, with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
